

For retirement living that transcends from independent to assisted living to intermediate care, there is one clear choice...

Amica at Douglas House

You've gone through thick and thin together and wouldn't dream of leaving your loved one's side in their failing health. Yet they require a little more care than you alone can provide. We suggest you consider the only retirement community in the area that offers you an independent, full-service lifestyle, with the assisted living or intermediate care that you or your loved one may require, all in one place. Stay together knowing that there is 24/7 security and service, activities, fresh meals and enhanced care when you need it most. Call and inquire about the continuum of care lifestyle of Amica at Douglas House.
